A solution helping customers finding products

Did you ever had a problem to find a product in a store?

 Here is a solution: An advisor/Selector with ability to turn on ESL label equipped with LED.

Did you ever had a problem of not having product data?

 Here is a solution: A service what gives you all product data.

How the solution works?

- A touch enabled advisor which receives automatically data form a central PIM system, updates itself automatically with most recent products and accessories related to products.
- Automatically configures itself to position of the product as a Label is configured to the product.
- Internet connection is only needed for product updates,
- Prices, product details, product explanation animations, product comparing, everything is included.
