Technology

The Team Flow System is a product of Innoria Ltd., which was included in the SportTech Hungary program of the Ministry of Foreign Affairs and Trade in 2020.

The System consists of easy-to-wear wireless EEG headbands assigned to our unique software.

The operation is automatic, supported by artificial intelligence which makes it easy to use.

Our product has been developed according to the needs of athletes and sport leaders. The system can be used in both team sports and individual sports.

References

Due to the ease of use and high efficiency of the System, it has been successfully included in international teams and world champion individual athletes as part of their training methodology.

Including but not limited to Norbert Michelisz - world champion in car racing, Ágota Lénárt - world champion in sport shooting, DEAC handball team, and athletes from Marymount University in the USA are also among our references.
